This information can be found on the Company's Trading App, on "Daily Interest Rates", "On borrowed funds" under each instruments "Specs".

- 3.4. While borrowing shares, the Client assumes responsibility for paying gross dividends to the lenders. The Company may collect the equivalent dividend amount from the Client on the ex-dividend date to facilitate timely payment to the lenders. The Company will not withhold taxes on these payments, and the Client shall be solely responsible for any associated tax obligations.
- 3.5. If the borrowed shares become unavailable, the Company reserves the right to close the Client's short positions. The Client acknowledges that short positions are subject to availability, and no guarantees are provided regarding the continued borrowing of shares.
- 3.6. The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company, at its sole discretion, may close the Client's short positions due to market conditions, including but not limited to, extreme price volatility, regulatory requirements, or changes in stock availability. The Company will endeavor to provide prior notice where feasible; however, the Client understands that certain market conditions may necessitate immediate action without prior notice.

4. Share Lending

- 4.1. The Client authorizes the Company to borrow shares held in their account. The Client must explicitly consent to participate in the share lending by checking the appropriate box. Before proceeding, the Client must carefully read the relevant risk notice. The Company will act as the counterparty for borrowing the shares and is obligated to redeliver the borrowed shares to the Client. The Company may, in turn, lend the shares to other Clients for the purpose of opening short positions (the “Borrowers”).
- 4.2. When the Client’s shares are lent, the Company shall collect interest from the Borrowers and pass a portion of the interest collected to the lending Clients. This amount will be credited to the Client daily and held as part of the Client’s funds. The Client can check the interest percentage and the amount that will be earned from the relevant page of the App.
- 4.3. While the Client’s shares are borrowed, the Client shall remain the beneficial owner of the shares, retain the market exposure associated with beneficial ownership, and maintain the right to have the lent shares returned by the Company. As the beneficial owner of the shares, the Client has no voting rights.
- 4.4. The Client may sell their shares at any time, regardless of whether the shares have been lent.
- 4.5. The Client is entitled to receive dividends for lent shares or an equivalent payment reflecting the dividend amount. The Company will not withhold taxes on these payments, and the Client shall be responsible for any associated tax obligations.
- 4.6. The Company do not guarantee that it will borrow the Client’s shares. The Company may borrow all, some, or none of the shares in the Client’s account, depending on market demand for the shares in the Account. The Client cannot specify which shares will be lent.
- 4.7. Information regarding lent shares, including the number of shares lent, their value, and the interest earned, will be visible in the App and included in the Client’s account reports.
- 4.8. The Company will monitor the value of the share(s) lent to ensure that the collateral is always at an appropriate level.

may implement from time to time.

- 5.2. Upon your offer and our acceptance of your Order, you hereby authorize us to close the Transaction at the “Close at Loss” price or “Close at Profit” price, as applicable, and as agreed in the Order, without further instruction from or notification to you. You acknowledge that we will not be required to close any Transaction if you are not in compliance with any of the factors set forth in Section 15.11 of this Client Agreement.
- 5.3. You acknowledge and agree that due to market
- 5.4. volatility and factors beyond our control, we cannot guarantee that an Order will be executed at the level specified in your Order, for example, an Order may be closed at a worse price than as originally specified by you in such an Order. In such an event, we will close the Transaction at the next best price.
- 5.5. With respect to close at profit (Take Profit) where the price for a Security moves to your advantage, we will pass such price improvement on to you.
- 5.6. The Client agrees that placing a close at loss (Stop Loss) Order will not necessarily limit losses to the intended amounts, because market conditions may make it impossible to execute such an Order at the stipulated price and the Company bears no responsibility whatsoever.
- 5.7. You further agree that you can set their Close at profit or Set Order Price at maximum 20% difference from its initial price (price of instrument at the time of opening the order). 8.2. When you choose to purchase fractions of shares, which have not been issued in fractional form, you essentially create and agree to create a trust mechanism whereby you appoint the Company as your trustee to hold the legal title of the shares in proportion to your fractional shares exposure, for your benefit. Accordingly, shares are held in the legal ownership of the Company but are beneficially owned by you in the proportion corresponding to your agreed fractional exposure to the Shares. The Company acts as your trustee and accordingly owes you a fiduciary duty to act in your interest. A trust arrangement is an arrangement where legal ownership is separated from beneficial ownership.

8.3. The proportion of beneficial ownership over the shares conferred to you is always reflected in the records of the Company, which shall serve as evidence of your beneficial ownership.

The Company will exercise best efforts to inform you of any corporate actions which give you proportionate right to vote, provided the Company receives the relevant information. However, to ensure that such rights are exercised, you hereby appoint the Company as your agent and/or attorney (depending on the applicable by-laws of the issuer) to vote on your behalf on such corporate actions
- Dividends Distribution: the Company will be receiving dividends and other income payments accruing to the fractional shares on your behalf and will book any such proceeds to your Investment Account, proportionately to your fractional share exposure, subject to any applicable deductions. The minimum amount of dividend should be equal or greater than one cent of a EUR (0.01 EUR).
- Residual Interest: you have a right to participate in the distribution of assets on the winding up of the issuer, proportionately to your fractional share exposure. The Company will book any such proceeds to your Investment Account, proportionately to your fractional share exposure.

The Company will only support payments that are equal to or greater than one cent of EUR (0.01 EUR) per share. Amounts smaller than one cent of EUR (0.01 EUR) or other non-divisible amounts, will not be distributed. Instead, it is generally but not always the case, that when the aggregate value to be distributed is less than or equal to one cent of EUR (0.01 EUR), it will be retained by the Company, and when it exceeds one cent of EUR (0.01 EUR), it will be escheated.

- Transferability: you are entitled to transfer your fractional share interest, provided the broker of your choice, if not us, can accommodate such transaction. Upon your written instructions (via email to support@50k.trade) the Company will follow your instructions and charge a fee of 50 EUR per Financial Instrument.

8.5. Where the Company has actually received notice of a corporate action in respect of any shares or fractional shares, will notify you as soon as practicable of such corporate action.

8.6. You shall be solely responsible for compliance with any notification or other requirements pursuant to any applicable regulations relating to or affecting your ownership of the securities, including fractional shares.

9.6. In deciding whether to open a position using Margin Lending, you acknowledge that you are aware of the Interest charge. You hereby authorize us to add or subtract the Interest charge to or from your Account for any open Transactions, in accordance with the applicable Interest rate.

- 9.7. The Company has the right to change the level of Margin Lending per financial instrument (i.e. lower/higher to be provided) without prior notice, according to the conditions described on the Margin Lending Policy which can be found at the Website of the Company.
- 9.8. An automatic change in the level of Margin Lending pursuant to the rules established by the Company, as well as a change in levels made by the Client through the App will result in a recalculation of the Margin requirements for all of the Client's positions.

 - (a) To dynamically change the Margin level on the Client Accounts if the Company has ascertained that doing so will mitigate risks arising from extreme market movements due to significant events or announcements. This change will affect only order as well as the transactions to be opened after the announcement of changing of the margin lending level of margin requirements. The Company will take all reasonable steps to inform its clients in a durable medium but it is always suggested to the clients to find the most accurate and recent information in the instruments info on the App.
 - (b) To limit the level of the offered Margin Lending and/or to increase the size of Margin requirements before macroeconomic events and/or news capable of significantly affecting the prices of financial instruments.
 - (c) To limit the level of the offered Margin Lending and/or to increase the size of Margin requirements in order to comply with any necessary regulatory requirements that fall within the Company's jurisdiction or within the jurisdiction of the Client.
 - (d) To adjust the margin offered on certain instruments at the time an order is placed. In particular, the Company may reduce the margin to ensure that the projected Initial Margin depletion does not exceed 10% at the time the order is being placed.

However, in cases where the user delays confirming the order or when placing limit order(s) or when order(s) placed outside of trading hours, market conditions such as spreads may shift by the time of execution. As a result, the actual Initial Margin depletion may exceed the initial estimate. Also, the Company reserves the right to reject the order if, for example, the projected depletion exceeds 30% at the time of execution.

10. Corporate Actions

- 10.1. The Client may be entitled to participate in a Corporate Action such as dividends, stock split, spin-off or other types of Corporate Actions attached to Investments in the Clients Investment Account.
- 10.2. The Company will exercise best efforts to inform the Client of such Corporate Actions, and may arrange for the Client to participate in such Corporate Actions provided the Company receives the relevant information.

- 10.3. The Company will use all reasonable efforts to claim income on securities, including fractional shares, and subsequently credit them to the Client's investment account.
- 10.4. The Company does not accept any liability for any actual or potential loss that the Client may suffer if the Company is unable to facilitate the participation in any Corporate Action.
- 10.5. Due to the omnibus structure of the custody account, in the event of a merger, spin-off, or special stock dividend, we will not provide you with the new stock. You consent that in such situations, the relevant corporate action will be paid in cash to your Account.
- 10.6. The Company will be responsible for claiming and receiving dividends and other income payments accruing to the Client's Investments, and will book any proceeds from the Investments in the Investment Account.
- 10.7. Corporate actions in respect to positions in fractional shares are subject to the same conditions as Corporate Actions in respect to whole shares. If you hold fractional shares, any dividend payable to you will be on a pro-rata basis to reflect your fractional entitlement.
- 10.8. Often a withholding tax would apply to such proceeds and the Company will exercise its best efforts to collect the applicable withholding tax, whereupon the relevant funds will cease to be protected under Client Money Rules, as they will be due to the respective authorities. Holders of fractional shares shall be regarded as the beneficial owners of all fractional share interests and thus are liable for assessment of the tax reporting and withholding liabilities. Tax will be applied on dividends proportionally.
- 10.9. The existence and percentage of withholding tax depends on various factors and circumstances, such as the Clients tax residency, the national legislation of the issuer and any applicable tax treaty.
- 10.10. It is understood that in some cases, the Client may be able to reclaim all or part of any withheld taxes and may be required to provide additional information to the relevant tax authority. The Client is solely responsible for tax filing and reporting.
- 10.11. Dividends on stocks will be paid to your Account, as soon as reasonably practicable following payment of the dividend, and after deduction of relevant withholding tax. The Company reserves the right to delay or postpone investments where there is insufficient liquidity in the market and in certain circumstances (e.g. if the relevant eligible investment is not available, in extreme market conditions, for operational reasons or due to a system failure or malfunction). The Company will not be responsible for any loss, which may occur as a result of such market movements.

11. Safeguarding of Client Securities

- 11.1. Your securities purchased on our platform will be held on your behalf until we receive instructions from you to sell those securities. This arrangement is referred to as "custody".
- 11.2. In holding your securities, we undertake the following measures to ensure their protection and safeguard your ownership rights:
 - 11.2.1. Keeping records and accounts that allow us to distinguish, at any time and without delay, assets held for you from those held for any other client and from our own assets.
 - 11.2.2. Maintaining our records and accounts accurately to reflect the securities held for you.
 - 11.2.3. Conducting regular reconciliations between our internal accounts and records and those of sub-custodians.
 - 11.2.4. Ensuring that any securities deposited with a sub-custodian are separately identifiable from our assets and those of the sub-custodian.
- 11.3. We will maintain detailed records of all your securities held by the custodian, indicating that the securities are held on your behalf and for your benefit. We exercise due skill, care, and diligence in selecting, appointing, and periodically monitoring the sub-custodian and in arranging the holding and safeguarding of the securities.
- 11.4. Your securities will be pooled with those of our other clients in an "Omnibus Account" with a third-party depositary in the name of the Company on behalf of our clients. In such cases, it may not be possible to distinguish your securities from those of other clients. In the event of the insolvency or any analogous proceedings of that third party, we may only have an unsecured claim against the third party on your behalf, exposing you to the risk that the funds received may not fully satisfy your claims. We accept no liability for any resulting losses.
- 11.5. Should we or our third-party nominee become insolvent, your securities may not be immediately identifiable by separate certificates, physical documents, or electronic entries in the register. Instead, your claim will be against the Omnibus Account, potentially requiring additional time to identify your specific securities, thus increasing the risk of loss. In the event of an unreconciled shortfall due to a custodian's default, you may share proportionately in that shortfall.
- 11.6. You agree not to sell, mortgage, or otherwise deal with or part with the securities we hold for you. If you have not provided instructions regarding the securities in your Account and we were unable to contact you despite taking reasonable steps to do so, you agree that we may cease to treat your assets as client assets.
